WELCOME

To our 2020 Winter edition of the Columba, coming to you in the midst of easing restrictions and a glimpse into what our post-coronavirus lives could look like.

While a significant period of time captured within these pages occurred during lockdown and isolation, we certainly have not lost the sense of community and connection that is a special feature of St Columba's College.

One lesson learned from the enforced distancing and separation is the value of community and about how much we mean to each other. In a world where individualism and self-centredness can often dominate, we have learned that that community is every bit as important as the individual – indeed, that the individual is lesser without it and that we all need one another to survive and flourish.

The strength of this school comes from the united efforts of each community member. Community is in our DNA – gifted to us by Mary Aikenhead and the Sisters of Charity. Our tradition is one where the individual is valued for the gifts they bring to our collective work; where each of us knuckles down and faces adversity with strength; where we put up and stand up for those who can't – these characteristics will always hold us in good stead when there is a challenge to face.

In the midst of our human interactions, being with and for one another, we acknowledge God present and active in our world.

“ What we do ought to be done well. ”
VENERABLE MARY AIKENHEAD

In the 1960s an organisation was formed called The Columbines, based on the 'Candy Stripes' organisation in America. Each week The Columbines would visit Caritas Christi Hospice in Kew. Pictured are G Loughnan, M Moore, A Garvey and J Ward, helping at the hospice fete in 1969.

As the Covid-19 pandemic took hold of the world, remote learning became inevitable and St Columba's College was tasked with ensuring the continuity of learning for more than 1000 students.

Well before the end of term one, and before any official government announcement, St Columba's College began to explore the delivery of lessons on a digital platform. Staff worked tirelessly to determine what remote learning would look like and how they would support each and every student. This prompt and thorough action allowed St Columba's College to commence a seamless start to learning, from the first day of term two.

The process of moving to a remote learning and remote working environment was a significant one. Staff and students adjusted quickly to new methods, new technology tools and new routes. The experience, while not always smooth, has been overwhelmingly positive and has encouraged forward-thinking and innovation across the St Columba's College Community.

An integral part of the success of the St Columba's College remote learning model, was an emphasis on the wellbeing of staff and students. Checking-in throughout the day, daily counsellor posts, active and creative challenges, and a balanced workload, all worked to ensure that each member of the St Columba's College community was connected, engaged and thriving.

We have now welcomed our students back onsite. The transition from school, to home, to school again, has been a positive one. Our students continue to prove just how capable, determined and motivated they are in their learning. We could not be happier to have them onsite again. School is not school without it's students.

Starting term 2 from their homes, students took on remote learning with enthusiastic determination. The St Columba's College students have shown their ability to adapt to the changing world around them. The skills that the students have developed during this time, will support and promote their success as independent learners, for many years to come.

JB Remote Learning has been interesting to say the least. Obviously it's new and with all new things, it poses a challenge for us to adapt to. For me personally, I would have never thought in a million years that this is how I'd be learning - through a video call! However, as I'm sure we can all agree, it wasn't all that bad. Firstly, who doesn't love a good sleep-in and warm lunches, and to top it off, a shorter day with the new timetable implemented especially for online learning. But there is one particular aspect that stood out to me amongst this whole experience, and that is the skills that we have learnt. Throughout this adventure, we have had to learn to be fairly independent and self-motivated, being in our own comfy environments, without the usual discipline that school encourages. This has taught me a lot about the ways in which I work best, and has assisted me in developing some good habits which I can use even once this is over. Obviously being at home has forced us to drive ourselves to do the work, so if you're going to take anything out this curveball, make it these newly found skills of hard-work and dedication. Finally, it has been great to see the community rally together in this strange time. Not only in our college community but nationwide. Watching everyone work together to make the best of a difficult time has filled my heart with gratitude that we are not only living in such a fortunate country, but that we have such a hard-working and compassionate school community. Juliana Basilone Year 11

AB As a year 7 and only just starting at St Columba's College, remote learning has been very interesting. It is very weird getting to only see my classmates and teachers from my screen and doing most of my work on online documents instead of hand-given worksheets. I have had to compromise multiple times and use my initiative since asking questions has been harder to do. Personally, learning from home has been like a great adventure and I have discovered many new things on the way. I enjoy having more variety on what to eat for lunch and being able to balance my time well now there are more break times. I really like how I get to be more independent and be more relaxed. The only downside of remote learning is how the internet connection isn't always the greatest and we have contributed plenty of our class time helping others fix their laptop or accessing documents that they might have trouble accessing. Overall, online learning has been full of ups and downs but I have adapted to it and I feel that it is nice to have more freedom and be more relaxed. Although a change of routine is nice, I still am eager to be able to see my friends, classmates, and teachers and get my life back together again. Annabelle Bayona Year 7

BIRTHING KIT ASSEMBLY DAY

To celebrate International Women's Day, our Year 12 VCAL students assembled and packed 400 birthing kits to send to pregnant women and maternal healthcare providers in developing countries. Each kit included a plastic sheet, gauze, soap, gloves, cord ties and a sterile blade, to help women experience a safer and cleaner birth.

Volunteers from the Zonta Club of Melbourne, demonstrated how to run an assembly line while packing the kits using a sterile technique. Assembling these kits for women on the other side of the world provided the students with an opportunity to reflect and act on behalf of those less fortunate. The VCAL students will build and improve on what they learned from planning and running this packing assembly day, in order to lead their peers in the same activity later this year.

STV BAGS

St Columba's staff and students have used their stay-home time to continue to help other by sewing bags and hunting down reusable plastic and paper bags, to donate to St Vincent de Paul. The donations will be used to provide food hampers to vulnerable individuals and families in the local community.

AUSTRALIAN CATHOLIC YOUTH FESTIVAL

Australian Catholic Youth Festival (ACYF) is an annual national gathering for young Catholics from across Australia, and in 2019 was held in Perth. ACYF provides young people opportunities to deepen their relationship with Jesus, be empowered to be faithful disciples and celebrate the Catholic Church.

The 2019 festival was held in December, and offered a vast array of activities and experiences to cater to the differing spiritual journeys of each attendee, including plenary sessions, workshops, live music, reconciliation and Indigenous Eucharistic celebrations. The attending students had a wonderful time, from meeting new people that share the same faith to singing in unison with 6,000 other passionate pilgrims.

ACYF fosters an environment of love and community, and gave the St Columba's students time together to build friendships and learn about their own spirituality. It was an unforgettable week of faith and touched the hearts of everyone who was there. The festival helped each student to develop a new view of their Catholicism, and a drive to spread God's love and call people to be a part of this amazingly diverse family.

CARITAS AMBASSADORS

The start of 2020, saw 56 students sign up as Caritas Ambassadors at St Columba's College. Their aim was to promote the work of Caritas through Project Compassion, which was to run through the 6 weeks of Lent. Project Compassion encourages schools, parishes and the wider community to uphold their responsibility to help each person achieve their full potential; this is known as the common good. In this time of increasing global change, conflict and inequality, the principle of the common good is important now more than ever. This year Project compassion has taken on the theme of Global Community – Go Further Together.

Our ambassadors have been active in homerooms, raising awareness and leading JUST change. They also created the Caritas Kitchen, where the ambassadors hosted a Shrove Tuesday pancake sale and later a BBQ, to not only raise funds but to speak to all the St Columba's community members about how we can all help others 'Go Further Together'. Despite the ambassadors' efforts being cut short due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the St Columba's community was able to collectively raise $2000 that will help many people both here and overseas.

WILSON

What are you currently studying, and where?

CW I am studying the Bachelor of Science at the University of Melbourne majoring in Zoology.

What has your first semester been like?

CW I enjoyed the different learning environment of university in the first weeks of semester, and was pleasantly surprised by how many St Columba's alumnae I crossed paths with between classes from my own and other year levels. I joined the wildlife conservation group to get the most out of my uni experience and meet like-minded people; the club has continued despite the new online challenges, sharing online events and news via a newsletter (although I did love our picnic lunches!). The shift to online learning has been a welcome one for me, as it has aided in my ongoing recovery from foot surgery in December followed by an emergency foot surgery a month ago. This year has definitely been full of surprises! It hasn't changed my plans for the future but allowed me to become a more independent learner, take the time to plan out my undergraduate and postgraduate pathways and enjoy spending time with my family.

What are you currently studying, and where?

HW I am currently studying the Bachelor of Space Science at RMIT University.

What has your first semester been like?

HW I was able to go to campus for the first two week before everything was moved online. Despite quarantine restrictions, I have still done some amazing things at home through my degree such as completing mission control and space weather forecasting simulations and having a zoom session with an astronaut! I also joined RMIT's interdisciplinary rocket team "HIVE" as part of the mission control sub-team. We are planning to commence construction of the rocket in RMIT's labs once the university reopens. This time at home has also given me the opportunity to enjoy some of my hobbies that I had shelved during year 12 such as; baking, gardening and craft. In the future I am planning to finish my degree, and I would love to work at the new Australian Space Agency as part of the Mission Control Team.

HOUSE NEWS

HOUSE WELCOMES

Over seven nights, each St Columba's College House welcomed their new members and celebrated their Year 12's with a special ceremony that cemented each student into their House. With a thoughtful liturgy, a gifting of a House badge and celebratory BBQ, students and families, both new and current, came together to celebrate the start of a new year.

HOUSE CAPTAINS

St Columba's College House Captains work to support and engage the members of their House in curricular, co-curricular and social justice activities. They are also integral members of the Student Executive (see page 13), contributing to initiatives throughout the College. Introducing the House Captains of 2020:

SWIMMING CARNIVAL

This year's Swimming Carnival was held in February, and the weather held out for what would be a great day. Each House turned out in style to colourfully support their team mates through a vast array of events that made the day energetic and exciting. 2020 also marked the first year that Water Polo was introduced, the girls took to this new event with enthusiasm and a tremendous level of participation. This year's carnival was the beginning of a two-year project, to provide the students the opportunity to assist in the planning and running of the carnival. Congratulations to all the staff and students who were involved on the day, and a big congratulations to Cahill House, our 2020 Swimming Carnival winners!

HOUSE FEAST DAYS

Our House Feast Days are a chance to bring together each house community and to celebrate the inspirational women whose names grace the St Columba's Houses. Williams House was the first to celebrate in term one, with a catered lunch and treats to share. Bruton and Cahill Houses brought their feast days to the homes of each House member through remote celebrations. Wearing their House colour and gathering for a virtual assembly, staff and students acknowledged the day in a new way. In true St Columba's and Sisters of Charity fashion, both Bruton and Cahill Houses, decided to donate the funds that would have provided an onsite celebration to their House charities.

OPENING MASS

The St Columba's College community was officially welcomed to the 2020 academic year with a reverent Opening Mass. Members of the Sisters of Charity, the St Columba's College Board, friends, families, staff and students, were brought together to think about the year that was and prepare for the year to come. Father XX challenged each member of the community to consider how they could better themselves and the lives of others in 2020, through compassion, thoughtfulness and action.

HIGH ACHIEVERS

Each year St Columba's College recognises the prodigious efforts of the previous year's graduating class. This year was no exception, as the High Achievers of 2019 returned to the College to be acknowledged and awarded for their achievements, with a whole school assembly and morning tea.

BIRDMAN

On Sunday 8th March, St Columba's College participated in their second Birdman Rally, as part of the Moomba Festival. The construction of this year's craft, Fidelis et Fortis II, involved a great deal of engineering and knowledge of physics. Applying their experience from 2019, students opted to modify the design and use different materials in an attempt to break last year's flight distance. Piloted by Ms Camille King, the craft travelled 8 meters across the Yarra River, one metre further than last year, and earning St Columba's College first place in the School's category.

As part of the entry to the Birdman Rally, students undertook fundraising activities, selling icy poles and personalised drink bottles. This, combined with prize money received on the day, meant that the student's raised a total of $6020, which was donated to the Sisters of Charity Foundation.

Participation in the Birdman Rally has brought together staff and students in a forward-thinking and innovative way, while preserving the St Columba's College spirit of charitable giving and servitude.

INTERFAITH DIALOGUE DAY

In March, 25 students from Years 9 to 11, volunteered to be a part of the Interfaith Dialogue Day with Ilim College, as part of our Catholic responsibility to listen and create open dialogue with people of different faiths. The Columba's College students did this with alacrity, finding more in common with their Islamic counterparts than differences. The students explored their faith and the experiences that had shaped them and discussed how, as strong 21st century women, they could make beneficial changes and impact local communities and even the world. Beyond the day, students from both Colleges continue to connect virtually and are hopeful of reconnecting in person, later this year.

Introducing the Student Executives for 2020. Headed by College Co-Captains Hannah Eres and Paige Samuel, the Student Executive are eager to make a difference in 2020. Despite the unprecedented start to the year, each of the captains has risen to the challenge and continued their duties of support and encouragement of the St Columba's College Community. Holding remote assemblies and developing virtual challenges, the Student Executive has continued to uphold the spirit of their roles with extraordinary drive.

PARENTS' FORUM WITH THE LEADERSHIP TEAM

Building strong partnerships between St Columba's College and families benefits our students and supports their educational, social and emotional outcomes. As part of the College's partnership with families, the Leadership Team have introduced Parent Forums. These forums are held once per term and offer families the opportunity to share ideas and information with key members of the St Columba's College Leadership Team. The first forum was held in term one over breakfast, where parents and leadership members shared information regarding future planning for programming and building works at the College. In term two, the forum was held remotely, with an exceptional turn out of more than 70 families. Remote learning, wellbeing, assessments, and more were discussed and explored. Families provided fantastic insight into their daughter's learning and wellbeing, while the Leadership team presented their ideas and focus for the term to come. The Parent Forums will continue through 2020, and we encourage all families to attend.

YEAR 7 ORIENTATION

The 2020 Year 7 students began their journey with St Columba's College back in November of 2019. The students arrived at the College in their Primary School uniforms, eager to be a St Columba's student. Their visit to the College was an opportunity to familiarise themselves with the extensive school grounds, meet their teachers and fellow classmates, and even choose their instruments for their Year 7 music classes. Through fun activities the students began to form friendships, which would follow them into their first semester of Year 7.

YEAR 7 REFLECTION DAY

Year 7 Reflection Day was a celebration and opportunity for students to consider the journey that had just begun at St Columba's College. The day gave students a chance to get to know each other a little better and think about their responsibilities as classmates in Year 7. Students and staff reflected on their experiences together and how they can follow Jesus and the example of Mary Aikenhead during their time at St Columba's College.

Alumnae SPOTLIGHT

WHO AM I

Gracie Vacirca, nee Tomolo – Class of

What do you do today? Living in the local area, working as a speech pathologist in the public sector hospital, married with 2 boys aged 9 and 6.

How did St Columba's College impact you? St Columba's encouraged me to be the best version of myself.

The school allowed me the flexibility to be the individual I was becoming. The teachers were passionate male and female role models with strong moral underpinning. The spiritual/religious aspects of school life were progressive and in tune with young developing girls.

These experiences and memories have influenced my decision making when considering schools for my own children. St Columba's was able to grow and develop my interests in performing arts, sports and science

The careers program that operated at St Columba's helped steer me towards university study by mapping out my strengths and limitations. I felt that St Columba's genuinely cared about my personal and professional development and offered programs and support to nurture these.

We would love to hear from you.

WHO AM I

Alison Fonseca – Class of

What do you do today? I love bringing people's stories to life as a senior journalist and filmmaker. I've enjoyed directing news as Chief of Staff of Ten Eyewitness News in Melbourne. After 15 years working in television and newspapers, including The Age, WIN Television and Channel Ten, I now thrive on storytelling through my own filmmaking business. I've helped to save lives as a Lifeline crisis support volunteer. I've also helped hundreds of homeless cats and dogs as media manager of Australia's largest animal shelter.

How did St Columba's College impact you? St Columba's helped me foster inner strength, tenacity, compassion and an internal sense of justice, which stood me in good stead for the media industry. After my Dad passed away in 2015, I deactivated my Facebook account to make more time to help people through volunteering at Lifeline.

My love for filmmaking started back at lunchtimes at St Columba's, where I'd often record documentaries with friends. Back then, all we had was a clunky old video camera from the library and recorded straight onto a VHS tape! I firmly believe St Columba's ladies truly do go on to use their gifts to enrich the lives of others. I am grateful to supportive staff who always had faith in me, in particular Katy Marriner, who had a huge positive impact on who I am today. We had an amazingly progressive Year 12 Literature class.

There was no nonsense approach, our thinking was challenged and you had to work hard and which helped me realise I would never settle for mediocre in life. I now feel honoured to have the opportunity to give back to St Columba's, helping to teach TV news and shaping the journalism curriculum. St Columba's taught me to be independent and to believe in myself. Anything is possible if you work hard for it. Believe you can and you are already halfway there.

PARENTS' Association

It has been a great start to the year for our Parents' Association, starting the year by hosting our Year 7 parents to a Cocktail Evening on Friday XX March. The event provided attendees with the opportunity to meet other Year 7 parents and learn more about the College from a parent's perspective. The night was a success, with everyone taking the opportunity to connect with members of the Year 7 community. The Parents' Association have currently put their calendar of events on hold, but look forward to hosting more events for families and students, as soon as is possible.

The Parents' Association meets every third Tuesday of the month. All welcome. Visit our website for further information about meeting dates and times.

WE THANK THE PARENTS' ASSOCIATION FOR THEIR HARD WORK, DEDICATION AND ONGOING CONTRIBUTION TO THE ST COLUMBA'S COLLEGE COMMUNITY.

“ THE DIVINE DANCE For just as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of the body, though many, are one body, so it is with Christ. For in the one Spirit we were all baptized into one body – Jews or Greeks, slaves or free – and we were all made to drink of one Spirit. Indeed, the body does not consist of one member but of many. ”
